@offwhyte

He has released several projects under the hip-hop label Galapagos4, of which he is a founding member. Offwhyte has performed his unique brand of music everywhere throughout the U.S., Europe and Japan and has served as a vital curator of underground culture for the past two decades. Over that time he has garnered praise from the likes of Okayplayer, HipHopDX, Le Monde, The Chicago Tribune and Genius, has gained airplay on BBC's Radio 1 and has performed at such legendary venues as Chicago's Metro and Los Angeles' Low End Theory.

Press Quotes

"I promise you that if you check this song out, you will listen to it ten more times and proceed to be extremely excited for their upcoming Go EP. It's got the makings of a slept-on project of the year." -Fashionably-Early.com

"Offwhyte, with the label since its inception four years ago, was the second act of the evening. An unusual presence in hip-hop because of his high voice and Asian heritage, he styles himself an "industry recluse." Offwhyte's political material elevated his heady set to its best moments."

-The Chicago Tribune

"ambient hip-hop, all shadowy soundscape and free-floating intelligence" -The Village Voice

"Most of the once obscure artists that appeared on the seven-track comp--including Anacron, Pugslee Atomz, the PACIFICS, and Offwhyte, who recently put out his superb second album, The Fifth Sun, on Galapagos4--have become key players on the local scene."-Chicago Reader
